“An X-ray of the referendum of July 5 and its impacts”

A current analysis of the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou was published on July 17, 2015 and is available on DIKTIO's website.

“EMU 2.0: Patches or a paradigm shift?”

An analysis of the new structure of EMU in response to the report of the five Presidents. Facts, analysis and highlights of what needs to change in the Eurozone. The analysis was published on August 4, 2015, is signed by the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou and is available on the website of DIKTIO.

Papers- Publications: “The impacts of the agreement of the 3rd memorandum in EMU developments”

The obvious good news is that Greece remains in the Eurozone. The less obvious worrying news, however, is the reaffirmation of the weaknesses of the EMU structure, and the urgent need for its revision. The agreement between Greece and its partners involves a number of challenges not only for the country, but also for the EMU. We repeat the known, but ever current, position that a monetary union without at least an economic union is a weak and impossible endeavor. The experience of the last five years, has highlighted the weakness of the monetary union, which can only work to the extent that it is effective, while it is based on the close coordination and cooperation of all, in the context of their irrevocable commitment to the common currency. It will take time to appreciate the consequences of what EMU has gone through. But in the wake of Greece's agreement for a 3rd Economic Stabilization Program, it is high time to draw some preliminary conclusions and look at three key risks to three fundamental challenges for the future of the EMU. The study was published on September 8, 2015, it is signed by the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou and is available on the website of DIKTIO.

Papers- Publications

“Developments in EMU and balances with countries outside the Euro Zone”

"Poor management capacity of the EMU countries in the early years of the crisis, has led some countries outside the euro zone to develop skeptic tendencies as to the endorsement of the Euro. On the other hand, developments in the EMU structure that have recently started and the fact that the majority of EU countries are already in the EMU, are forcing those countries outside the EMU to seek ways to safeguard their interests. DIKTIO presents a brief inventory of proposals that can contribute to building trust between Euro countries and other countries, while making efforts to develop and improve the EMU". The study was published on September 28, 2015 it is signed by the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou and is available on the website of DIKTIO.

“Study on the relations of EU-UN on the occasion of its 70th anniversary”

On the anniversary of the UN establishment, and in view of the new EU Strategy being prepared by the High Commissioner, we present a study on the role of the EU in the UN General Assembly, the importance of a single EU representation at the General Assembly and the significance of this opportunity to generally enhance the EU's international presence in other forums and organizations. The study of the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou on EU - UN to mark the 70 years since its foundation was published on October 29, 2015 and is available on the website of DIKTIO.

Papers- Publications: “DIKTIO’s analysis on demographics”

One of the most important factors for the sustainability of a pension system is the demographic development. Both Greece and Europe are aging rapidly. The welfare state will receive strong pressures in the coming years due to demographics. On the occasion of the debate in the Parliament of Heads of political parties on the pension reform, DIKTIO presents the downward demographic trend in Europe and Greece, drawing data from major published studies and articles. What needs to be addressed, however, by the Government, political parties and organizations, is to submit concrete proposals to halt the course of population reduction, in conditions of economic crisis. The integration of immigrants is one of the proposals, but it will face reactions during implementation as, unfortunately, the xenophobia virus spreads, in many countries as a result of the inability to cope with refugee flows in the EU. Analysis of the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou on the major issue of demographics was published on January 27, 2016 and is available on the website of DIKTIO.

Papers- Publications: “EU-G. Britain: a NETWORK analysis”

Negotiations between Britain and the European Union coincide with a critical time for the development of the Union. The financial and the refugee galloping crises affect talks on the future of the EU's relationship with one of the most powerful and influential global members. The outcome of the talks is expected to play a key role on whether the country shall remain in Europe, but also influences the debate on the future of the Union. DIKTIO - Network for Reform in Greece and Europe, outlines the basic positions of Great Britain, the consequences for the Union Law if they are adopted, the importance of negotiations for the Union and the opportunities that exist therein, so that the debate evolves into a promotional lever to assist the Union, at a time when its consistency is precarious. The analysis of the Director of DIKTIO Yannis Mastrogeorgiou on the negotiation between EU - G. Britain in view of the referendum regarding the country remaining in the EU was published on February 1, 2016 and is available on the website of DIKTIO.

Papers- Publications: “#TTIP: The challenge of the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership”

Two major events stamp the contemporary global economic and trade affairs, opening a new and interesting skyline. The TPP (Trans-Pacific Partnership) that has already been approved by the parties involved and is now developing and the TTIP (Transatlantic trade and investment agreement) that regards the US and the EU, which is still under negotiation.

This analysis by DIKTIO presents the main points of the negotiated TTIP agreement, the main friction points that need to be clarified further, and the advantages arising from the agreement for the development of the Union.

Working Breakfast with World Leaders: Erkki Liikanen

DIKTIO, organized on September 21, 2015 another meeting with prominent international personalities. Guest this time was the Central Banker of Finland, Erkki Liikanen. Mr. Liikanen noted that any "trust" built with Greece recently should not be lost. The Finnish central banker appeared cautiously optimistic about the growth of the Eurozone, and attributed his country's economic problems to the downward spiral of Nokia, the pressure in the paper industry, which is one of the main sources of wealth of the country, but also in the recessionary course of Russia's economy, which is one of the main trading partners of Finland.

Mr. Liikanen defended the policy followed by the ECB in recent years and noted that the promotion of the banking-financial consolidation and the establishment of an effective deposit insurance to 100,000 Euros, through a common deposit guarantee fund, will be an important development in the attempt to stabilize eurozone, but also an essential tool to promote growth.
